

TransDigm Group and Servotronics, Inc. Announce Acquisition Agreement

May 19, 2025

CLEVELAND and ELMA, N.Y., May 19, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- TransDigm Group Incorporated ("TransDigm") (NYSE: TDG) and Servotronics, Inc. ("Servotronics") (NYSE American: SVT) today announced a definitive merger agreement providing for Servotronics to become an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of TransDigm. TransDigm designs, produces and supplies highly engineered aircraft components. Servotronics designs, produces and supplies highly engineered servo valves.

Under the terms of the agreement, a subsidiary of TransDigm will commence a tender offer to acquire all the outstanding shares of Servotronics for $38.50 per share in cash, in a transaction valued at approximately $110 million, including certain tax benefits. The cash consideration represents a premium of approximately 274% to Servotronics' closing share price on May 16, 2025, the last trading day prior to today's announcement.

Following the purchase of shares through the tender offer, TransDigm will complete the acquisition of Servotronics by acquiring all remaining shares not acquired in the offer through a merger at the same price as the tender offer. The acquisition will be funded with TransDigm's cash on hand and is not subject to any financing conditions. The merger agreement was unanimously approved by the Board of Directors of Servotronics.

Servotronics, headquartered in Elma, New York, is a leading global designer and manufacturer of servo controls and other advanced technology components for aerospace and defense applications. Servotronics' products have a strong presence across major aerospace and defense platforms and significant aftermarket content. Servotronics' revenues are primarily derived from the commercial aerospace end market and nearly all revenue is generated from proprietary products. Servotronics employs approximately 275 people and generated approximately $45 million in revenue for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2024.

Kevin Stein, TransDigm's President and Chief Executive Officer stated, "We are excited to have an agreement to acquire Servotronics and welcome them to TransDigm. Servotronics' highly engineered, proprietary products with significant aftermarket exposure fit well with our long-standing strategy. Nearly 80% of the business serves commercial aerospace and the business has significant shipset content across major commercial and defense platforms. Servotronics is a market leader and pioneer across servo valve technology, and we are excited to partner with Servotronics to continue investing in the business. We are confident that TransDigm will be a great long-term home for this business, its employees, and customers in Western New York."

Bill Farrell Jr., Servotronics' Chief Executive Officer, added, "We believe Servotronics will be an excellent addition to the TransDigm portfolio of companies, as our products, business model, strategy and focus are closely aligned. Being part of a larger aerospace company will allow for further growth opportunities and provide resources for Servotronics to continue developing the highly engineered, proprietary products that we are known for today. We believe this transaction delivers immediate and certain value for Servotronics' shareholders and positions Servotronics well for the future. We are proud of our history and accomplishments and look forward to our long future together with TransDigm."

Under the terms of the merger agreement, the parties anticipate that TransDigm will commence a cash tender offer for all of the outstanding shares of Servotronics on or before June 9, 2025. TransDigm's obligation to accept and purchase Servotronics common stock tendered pursuant to the tender offer will be subject to customary closing conditions, including the valid tender of a majority of the outstanding shares of Servotronics common stock.
